Use of cookies

Our site uses cookies to distinguish you from others users of our site. This helps us to provide you with a better experience when you are browsing our website and allows us to improve our site and our customer experience. By continuing to browse the site, you agree that we use such cookies.

A cookie is a small file containing letters and numbers that we store on your browser, portable device or on the data carrier (such as a disk hard) from your computer if you consent. Cookies contain information transferred to the data carrier of your computer.

We use the following cookies:

Essential cookies. These cookies are necessary for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that allow you to connect to secure areas of our website by creating sessions whose information is only accessible to you.

Cookies for analysis purposes. They allow us to recognize, count the number of visitors and their behaviour when they visit our website. This allows us, among other things, to improve the operation of our site and the experience of users.

Functional cookies. They are used to recognize you when you return on our website. This allows us to customize your experience by welcoming you by name and in the language of your choice, for example.

Cookies for targeting purposes. These cookies record your visit on our website, the pages you visited and the links you followed. We use this information to make our website more relevant to your interests and help us to better identify the type of content that attracts visitors' interest. We can also share this information with third parties.
